Sew the snout close to the bottom of the longer side of the head. Make sure to center it in relation to the pointed part beginning of it.

Sew the nose holes on the snout. Do it on the second row counting from the top and leaving 6 sc between them on that same line.

Attached to the pointed part of the head, sew the horns and then the ears to which you will have already added the inner part centered.

In line with respect to the nose holes and leaving 3 st of separation from the snout, sew the eyes slightly curved. Place the white line facing up, but when sewing them, embroider a thin black line on top.

Finally sew the spots, one with the longest part between the ear and the horn and the other attached to the left edge of the head.
